Message to Q and Whip Followers

If you have a Telegram group that you are in, and the members are familiar with Q, this is a message that has allowed me to get several people to create a Lobstr account and buy the tokens we discuss in GQX and Whiplash's channel.

Hi XX, here is the background of why I think these crypto tokens are a wise investment.

The tokens that Whiplash posts about are referred to as "GESARA tokens". These are tokens that Whiplash and other people in the Q space are saying will dramatically increase in the new financial system that comes after the White Hats take over. We are hearing that the new stock and bond markets will be on a crypto platform called Stellar. The Stellar platform uses the XLM token which you may have heard of in the mainstream, but it also allows trading of lots of other tokens on their system as well. The GESARA tokens are some of these tokens.

These GESARA tokens we are being told are going to be the new stock and bond market tokens used in the new financial system. We are being given very early access. Many of these tokens can be bought right now for $0.00000005, so it only takes a dollar or two to make huge money if they even go to just one penny.

Several of my friends have taken $50-$100 and distributed them over 20-30 different tokens (so just a few bucks in each). That way if any one of them take off, you're set up financially for a long time. So, with that low of an investment, and our belief that the White Hats win this war, we think it's highly worth the risk.

Message to Recruit Personal Friends

This is a message a user has used to recruit their personal friends.

Message:

"Do you trust me enough to spend $100 and forget about it for a few years? Can you imagine snagging some Bitcoin when it cost pennies? This could prove to be similar. A digital financial network is being created right under the nose of the general public, which complies with ISO regulation and will provide utility to banks, businesses and individuals."

If I still have them at the point, I share a few finer details and suggest they consider an account on Lobster and tell them if I only had $100 to spend, I'd buy ETX (domain = etxco.com). And add the caveat that it could all go to $0, and they lose the $100, but that it was worth the risk to me.

This has gotten people hooked and they have signed up for Lobstr. They have purchased more Stellar (and KT) assets than just the ETX. And are trying to learn as much as they can about it all.
